Course Description: The purpose of the World History curriculum is to help students understand how geography, economics, human interactions, inventions, and government apply to the world's ancient civilizations. Throughout the course, students will demonstrate their understanding of assessed benchmarks through various skill-oriented tasks such as mapping, graphing, identifying perspective, interpreting primary sources to enhance their understanding of content, experiential exercises, writing for understanding, individual and small group projects/assignments, and standardized assessments.

Expectations: Students are expected to:

- Come to class prepared and on time with their textbook and workbook, pen, and other daily supplies.
- Be respectful of themselves, their classmates, their teacher and school property.
- WHEN ABSENT, students are responsible for getting and making up missed work from their teacher as soon as they return to school.
- Ask appropriate questions in a respectful manner. Questions should not be off topic. Other questions may be asked after class or after school.
- Come to class with a smile, great attitude and try their best to be successful.

Grading Scale:	Tests/Quizzes	50%
	In-class assignments	30%
	Homework	20%
